Introduction: Chinese Philosophy and the Translation of Disciplines 1
1 The Faces of Masters Literature until the Eastern Han 32
2 Scenes of Instruction and Master Bodies in the Analects 90
3 From Scenes of Instruction to Scenes of Construction: Mozi 128
4 Interiority, Human Nature, and Exegesis in Mencius 153
5 Authorship, Human Nature, and Persuasion in Xunzi 180
6 The Race for Precedence: Polemics and the Vacuum of Traditions in Laozi 207
7 Zhuangzi and the Art of Negation 231
8 The Self-regulating State, Paranoia, and Rhetoric in Han Feizi 279

Epilogue: A Future for Masters Literature and Chinese Philosophy 326

Reference Matter

Works Cited 349
Index 365