Contents

List of Illustrations ix
Acknowledgments xi

Introduction 1

PART I: HISTORY

1. The Founding of the Celestial Master Church:
   External Evidence 21
   The Record of the Three Kingdoms 23
   Zhang Xiu and Liu Yan 28
   The Hanzhong Theocracy 37
   Daoist Institutions and Life in Hanzhong 51

2. The Founding of the Celestial Master Church:
   Internal Documents 63
   The Revelation to Zhang Ling 64
   The Zhang Pu Stele of 173 74
   The Laozi and the Xiang’er Commentary 79
   Daoists and the Profane 96
   Authority in the Xiang’er 104
3. After the Fall: Daoism in the Third Century

   Yangping Parish 113
   Church Offices 118
   The Parish System 124

   Commands and Precepts for the Great Family of the Dao 128
   Demon Statutes of Lady Blue 146
   Prohibitions and Taboos 148
   The Merging the Pneumas Rite 158
   Demons and the Dao 174

4. Daoism under the Northern and Southern Dynasties 190

   The Li Family and the Cheng-Han State 191
   North China: The Northern Wei and Northern Zhou 194
   South China: Gentry Daoism and Sun En 209

PART II: RITUAL AND COMMUNITY

5. Ritual Life 221

   The Oratory 222
   The Parish 228
   Daoist Attire 233

6. The Daoist Citizen 240

   Precepts 243
   The Daily Audience 246
   The Assemblies 251
   The Kitchens 256
CONTENTS

7. The Novice
   The Register 273
   Ordination 282
   Promotion 303
   Gender, Class, and Ethnicity 312
   Appendix: "The Codes and Precepts for Disciples in Serving Their Masters" 320

8. The Libationer
   The Itinerant Evangelist and the Parish Master 327
   The Parish System 332
   The Libationer and Spirit Revelation 344
   The Libationer as Judge 348
   The Libationer as Pastor 351
   Petitions 353
   Rules for Submitting Petitions 354
   Writing the Petition 356
   How to Submit a Petition 359
   Types of Petition 369
   How to Draw a Talisman 373
   Pledge Offerings 377
   Rituals for the Dead 379

Epilogue 388

Bibliography 395

Index 417