As the sources for this book turned out to be more and more multimedial, the idea to have the book accompanied by an online archive offering, by way of an online exhibition, all audio-/visual materials under discussion arose. This archive is available at http://projects.zo.uni-heidelberg.de/continuousrevolution/ and offers all resources mentioned in the book including references to our Digital Archive of Chinese Studies (DACHS). Some of the visual materials are also reprinted in the book; these resources are marked in bold, while all others are to be found only in the online archive.
